The University of Chicago provides equal employment opportunities to all employees, applicants, and job seekers. No person shall be discriminated against in employment or harassed because of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national or ethnic origin, age, disability, veteran status, genetic information, marital status, parental status, ancestry, source of income, or other classes protected by law. This policy includes the commitment to maintaining a work environment free from unlawful harassment.

The University of Chicago
Booth School of Business
5807 South Woodlawn Avenue
Chicago, Illinois 60637
Sarah.Griebel@chicagobooth.edu

Anna Costello
Christopher Stewart

RESEARCH PROFESSIONAL

We are looking for a highly skilled and motivated individual to work as a full-time research professional for at least one year, but ideally two years. The preferred start date is July 1, 2023, though other dates can be considered. Applications are reviewed on a rolling basis; any application received by November 7, 2022 will be given a full review. The final application deadline is November 18, 2022.

The job will entail close collaboration on a number of new research projects with the faculty listed above. Common tasks involve collecting data, maintaining databases, conducting statistical analysis, organizing the presentation of results, and providing other support associated with faculty research. Research for this role will focus on applied and often policy-relevant topics in financial regulation, corporate and household finance, and industrial organization. Previous holders of these positions at Booth have gone on to top Ph.D. programs in accounting, finance, and economics, including the University of Chicago, Harvard, and Stanford.

If interested, please fill out a formal application at https://uchicago.wd5.myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/External/details/Research-Professional_JR19043 and the online survey at https://docs.google.com/forms/d/e/1FAIpQLScfotW3mEOq2CC7gboaELwsuZ_xUS_V77CG7vO_Hwjk7aG5g/viewform?usp=sf_link. As part of the application, you will be asked to complete a Data Task, which should take about seven (7) hours total. Details about the Task may be found in the online survey. If you wish to confirm whether your application is complete, please email Sarah Griebel (sarah.griebel@chicagobooth.edu).

The ideal candidate will have (i) a quantitative background, (ii) the desire and ability to work independently to solve problems, (iii) experience with collecting, organizing, and analyzing data, (iv) a long-term interest in pursuing academic research. We welcome candidates with from all educational backgrounds. Please note that for this position, the ability to meet Census Bureau background clearance in order to access job-specific data is required, and US citizenship is just one criterion for the job-specific clearance. We pay an annual salary of $50,000 and provide standard benefits such as health insurance.

To learn more about predoctoral roles like this in general, and to find other opportunities, please visit https://predoc.org.

Chicago Booth is dedicated to creating an environment where people of different backgrounds, broadly defined, feel valued and where their ideas and contributions can flourish. Chicago Booth welcomes applications from women, persons with disabilities, veterans, and under-represented groups. If you need an accommodation to apply to a Chicago Booth Research Staff Program, or if there are other factors impacting your ability to apply to an open position, please email ResearchProfessional@lists.chicagobooth.edu.

The University of Chicago provides equal employment opportunities to all employees, applicants, and job seekers. No person shall be discriminated against in employment or harassed because of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national or ethnic origin, age, disability, veteran status, genetic information, marital status, parental status, ancestry, source of income, or other classes protected by law. This policy includes the commitment to maintaining a work environment free from unlawful harassment.